Teleconference Agenda
Feb. 16, 2018

Chairman’s Meeting Protocol:
Since conference calls are more challenging to administer, and the chairman cannot see who wants to speak, each member is asked to identify themselves and to speak during the appropriate time slot. The chair will then call on members, and they have the floor until the chairman calls on someone else. This will be repeated until all have had as many chances as they want. If the committee falls into circular repeating arguments with no suggestions for a solution, the chairman will move to the next item unless there is a motion on the floor.

Public comments will be taken during the assigned time period. The public comment period is for the non-committee members to provide the Committee with their thoughts on these subjects, and ideas for what the Committee might want to consider. It is not a period to debate issues with the Committee and staff. The Committee may vote to allow another round of public comments if they wish.
