Application of Rates

10

Unless otherwise provided, the rates herein cover transportation of biohazardous, infectious, contaminated, and other related infectious, medical wastes, in specialized containers, for the permanent disposition of such products as specified on the title pages herein. All rates shall be in addition to:

1. Actual service fees charged for professional evaluation of medical waste streams and packaging requirements as necessary to comply with all applicable regulations.
2. Special clean up (decontamination) time and expense charges may result from improper packaging, or emergency requirements of generators.

(c)

Limitations on Service

20

1. The waste material to be properly managed by the Company is biohazardous/infectious waste produced by the generator. Title to all waste shall remain with the generator. The generator represents and warrants that the waste is as described by generator and that generator has disclosed to the Company in writing, all of the hazards and risks incident to the handling, storage, and disposal of the waste. Generator agrees to defend, indemnify and hold harmless the Company from and liabilities resulting from or arising out of any non-disclosure or misrepresentation as to the quality, hazards, risk and dangerous propensities of the waste material.
2. Transporter reserves the right to modify standard container sizes in the future provided cost per gallon equivalent remains the same, unless and until conversion cost changes are provided by the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission.
3. The generator acknowledges that it has care, custody, and management of containers owned by the Company, and accepts responsibility for the containers and contents except when they are being physically handled by employees of the Company. Therefore, the generator expressly agrees to defend, indemnify and hold harmless the Company from and against any and all claims for loss or damage to property, injury to, or death of any person or persons resulting from or arising in any manner out of the use, operation or possession of the containers furnished by the Company.
