RULES AND REGULATIONS

Rule 1 - Water Service

(a) Application: Service and supply of water shall be rendered only after the signing of an application by the prospective customer and its acceptance by the utility, such application to state fully and truly all the purposes for which water may be required; and after agreement by the applicant to conform to the lawful rules and regulations established by the utility and filed with the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission (hereinafter referred to as "State Commission").

(b) Change of Use: The customer will not increase his demand or use of service as stated in his application without giving due notice of such increase. In the event of such increase, the customer will be required to pay the utility's regularly published rates for such increased service and demand from the date of connection and use of the same.

Whenever the customer desires to discontinue the use of water for any special purpose or through any fixtures mentioned in the original application, he shall cause the fixture to be removed and the branch pipe or service supplying the same to be capped or plugged, and shall notify the utility in writing before any reduction in charge will be made. Such a reduction in charge is contingent upon the provisions of the utility's tariff.

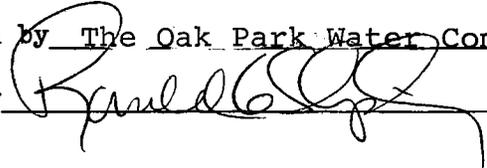

(c) Termination of Service: Service will be discontinued upon the customer giving the utility written notice prior to the date of disconnection. The customer will be held responsible for all charges accruing prior to the date specified in the notice, or in case of failure to give notice, then until the water is turned off.

Rule 2 - Services

RULE 3 – SERVICE CONNECTION CHARGE

See tariff for connection charges.

RULE – 4-a DISCONNECTION VISIT CHARGE

When a Utility employee is dispatched (single visit) to disconnect service, that employee must accept payment of a delinquent account and disconnect visit charge. The disconnect visit charge is $20. If amount owing is tendered in cash, Utility employee will not be required to dispense change for excess of the amount due and owing. Any excess payment will be credited to the customer's (T) account. The Utility will restore service when the cause of discontinuance has been removed and payments of all proper charges due from customer have been made.

RULE – 4-b RECONNECTION VISIT CHARGE

When a Utility employee is dispatched (single visit) to reconnect service to the Utility distribution system, a reconnection visit charge will apply. The reconnection charge is $25. Such charge is to apply only in cases where service – which includes, but is not limited to, has been (T) discontinued for non-payment of delinquent account, request of the customer (seasonal reconnection), cross connection control (no proof of backflow assembly), backflow assembly testing (annual testing report is not provided) and refusal to make proper repairs or similar cause. No charge will be made for reconnection of service if the shut-off was made for the convenience of the Utility in making repairs, changes, etc. Reconnections requested to be completed after 5 p.m. Monday – Friday, a charge of $40 will be made.

RULE 5 – SERVICE CONNECTIONS

The company will construct service connections of a proper size, as determined by the company, from its distribution mains to the customer's property. The company reserves the right to refuse to construct a service connection to any property in case a reasonable doubt exists as to continuity of service, or in case the applicant's pipes are not properly constructed and protected.

RULE 6 – INSTALLATION OF METERS

The amount so paid will be refunded to the customer by allowing him a credit of one-quarter (¼) of his monthly bill until such time as the amount has been paid, provided such refund payments do not run for more than three years from the date when refunds began. All meters will be maintained by the company without cost to the customer.

Rule 7 - Distribution Main Extension

Where elevation and construction conditions permit and one or more bona fide prospective permanent customers request a main extension, the utility will construct the same. The cost in excess of the estimated revenue for a period of three years shall be paid by the prospective customers in advance of construction. No extension will be considered as coming under this rule where the ratio of the total cost of the extension to the estimated yearly revenue is greater than six to one.

Subsequent applicants requesting service on such an extension within three years after the establishment thereof shall obtain, in writing, from each and all of the original applicants who at the time connected to the extension made payments under these rules, either

(a) A receipt acknowledging payment of a prorata share of the amount paid on the extension by the original applicants, or

Provided, however, that when the cost of furnishing such service exceeds the minimum investment required of the utility, then the connection will be treated as a new extension.

for water supplied by the company. The company will be exempt from all liability for loss or damage caused by leakage or escape of water furnished by the company, after the same has passed the point of the utility's ownership.

All service pipes and fixtures on the premises of the customer must be kept in repair and protected from freezing at the expense of the customer. Where there are leaking or defective pipes or fixtures, the water may be turned off at the option of the company until the proper repairs are made. The company may require any service to be equipped with a stop and waste cock to be used during freezing weather instead of permitting the water to be run continuously from faucets.

The company reserves the right to set meters or other devices without notice to the customer for the detection and prevention of fraud or waste.

Rule 9 - Access to Premises

The company's regularly authorized agents or employees shall have access to the premises of the customer at reasonable hours for the purpose of meter reading; for the inspection, connection, disconnection, repair or removal of the company's property installed thereon.

Rule 10 - Interruptions to Service

However, the company will not be responsible for any damage which may result from any cessation of service such as above outlined, nor for failure to give notice of shut-off when circumstances are such that it is impossible to give notice as above stated.

a delinquency. A delinquent account shall render the customer liable to a discontinuance of service and the charge for the reconnection of the service so discontinued shall be collected as provided for in Rule 4.

All bills for service rendered are due on the first day of the billing month and are payable on or before the fifteenth day thereafter as provided in the rule relative to bills. The bills are delinquent after the fifteenth day. A late fee of $1.00 will be added to all accounts not paid in full on or before the due date. The right to discontinue service or to refuse to supply service to any customer who is in default in payment of charges may be exercised whenever and as often as such default shall occur. Neither delay nor omission on the part of the company to enforce this rule shall be deemed a waiver of its rights to enforce the same so long as a default continues.

Rule 14 - Rates

Rates for water service and supply shall be those published in the company's tariff on file with the State Commission. Unless otherwise stated in this tariff, the rates shall apply to a single service to one customer at one premise. Where two or more families with separate housekeeping establishments occupy the same or separate dwellings, each family using water shall be considered a separate customer. Each separate housekeeping establishment or business using water, regardless of joint use, with other housekeeping establishments or businesses, will each be considered a customer.

When conditions require that more than one customer be supplied through one meter, each customer shall be charged the minimum charge multiplied by the number of customers. The excess consumption charge shall be computed at the regular rates for one customer and the amount prorated equally to the several customers, or otherwise as may be agreed among themselves.
